

LET'S KITBASH!

kitbash: [kitbɑʃ] - verb - to create something new out of the parts of other things.

To help you get your character sheets started, we're going to do a little bit of kitbashing! Not sure what that is? No fear! Here's a step-by-step guide on how to kitbash on your own. Feel free to use the parts provided below, but you can also get creative! Make stuff up!

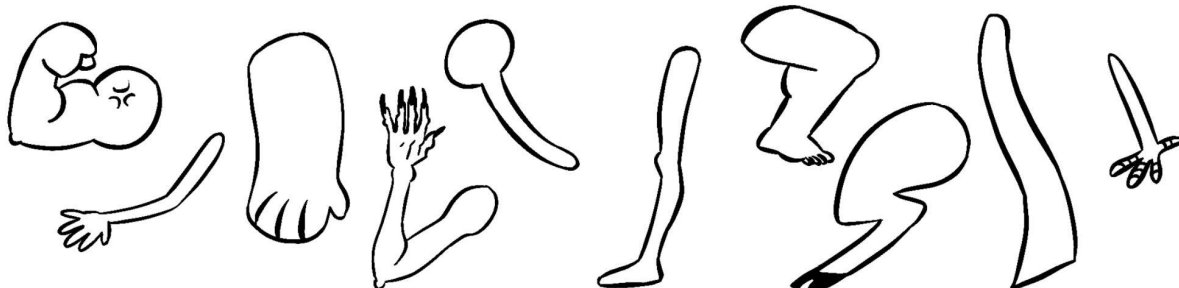

1. Pick out a body shape.

2. Stick a head on it!

3. Add some limbs!

4. Now for the face – give your character some eyes!

5. How 'bout a nose?

6. Mouth time!

7. By now your character should have some personality starting to show. Add anything else you think it needs for its personality to really come through! Clothes? Accessories? Eyebrows? Tattoos, freckles, or other markings?

DONE! What chaos hath you wrought?
